The Whitecap Dakota Treaty: Who Decides

Whitecap Members will vote on the treaty once the final agreement is completed. It will also go to federal cabinet for approval.

WDFN Chief and Council are negotiating the Treaty with Canada with support from legal counsel, WDFN staff, and the Chief's Advisory Committee. The draft treaty is also discussed with federal negotiators and legal counsel from INAC.

WDFN members will be updated and consulted on details related to the treaty at community meetings and Elder's meetings. A series of workshop will be held in July with youth, Elders, women, and men's groups. Members can provide feedback at these meetings.

Q: Will the Whitecap Dakota Treaty be voted on by Whitecap Members?
